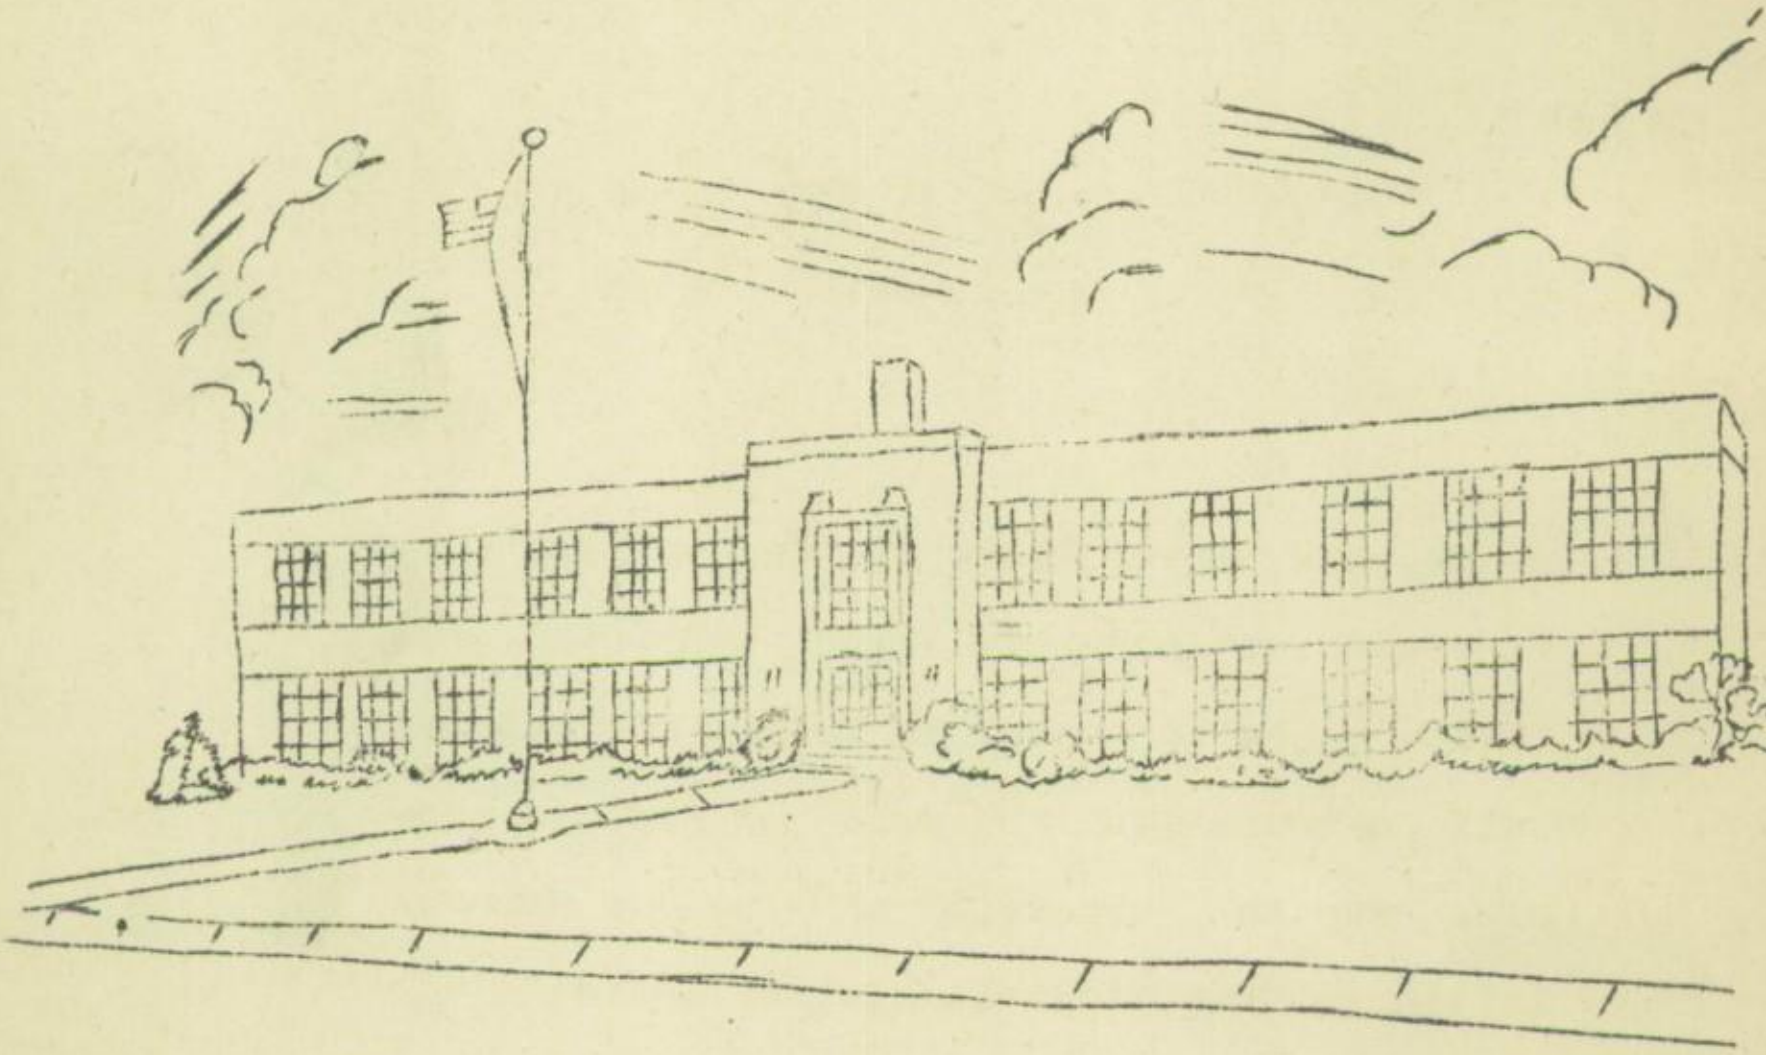
HIGH SCHOOL



DEDICATION

We, the Senior Class of '48, realize that we could not possibly have completed our twelve years of school if we had not had the full co-operation and help of certain people. For the purpose of showing our appreciation to these individuals, we dedicate the "Lest We Forget" of 1948 to those people who have helped us "Finish what we have attempted."

CLASS-HISTORY

Sitting here at this well-used, old desk, I have been gazing around at the familar faces C. H. S. now holds. Seeing these I realize how far we have traveled in these years. Starting on a journey down the road of memory, I visualize the first day of school when we sheltered children stepped forward into a world of education. This maturally took place on a sunny September morning (all school days were like this!) in 1936. Cridersville High was then visited by a group of wide-eyed, new additions. What a collection this was! Some short, one or two good, many bent on giving our teacher a headache; all answering to various discriptions, none identical; all will become an individual through the years. Through all the years of coming and going, these still remain: Treva Bell a dark-haired girl with a plentiful supply of freckles. Others were Kitty Bailey, a small blonde nicknamed "Kitty"; Norman Roser, a chubby boy with a crush on our freckled-faced girl. Yes, and there is Mary Spyker blonde-haired and sweet; and naturally myself. We have all remained through the twelve years to graduate. However, we did gain and loss as the years went on.

I remeber well that blessed event in the second grade when we received some more talent into our class; and slthough one left for a short time she has returned to graduate here. Yes, remember the girls were Mary Ruth Eley and Helen Snider. Mary is a dark-haired girl likeable for her laugh, and Helen a dark-haired girl who has won affection from all the class members. Mary left here for awhile but returned later in the fourth grade. She came from Horace Mann. Helen came from Whittier.

In the next couple of years, we received no new members. Our class dwindled. However, in our fifth grade Ruth Ritchie came to C. H. S. Ruth is a dark-haired small girl. (No bigger than a minute!) She came from Uniopolis.

New students were slow to come but in our Freshman year Rose Davis and Don Harshe came to us. Rose came from Uniopolis and won affection from all; and Don naturally stole a place in the girls' hearts with his winning smile. He was from Central. Also, in this year our comedian and singer, Ed Coplin, joined us.

The next year Glennes Sherrick, a girl from Alma, Michigan, entered here. Glennes is tall and willowy.

We gained no new member in our Junior year; but in our last year Jean Shealy and Lloyd Corson arrived. Jean came from Central and Lloyd from Shawnee. Jean's ways were different from ours but we all have come to like her. Lloyd is well-liked too.

Considering our great losses through these years; our gains leave us with a class of fourteen. All advanced twelve years in the realm of education. As we travel on; the way may be hard but we will finally struggle through to our road of life. So with tears in our eyes and memories in our hearts we travel on. (Fourteen graduates thankful for all C. H. S. has given us.)

And so it is with anticipation that we all face our destiny. For some a rocky road, for some an easy trail finally fading into the sunset of life; all batting onward, over the ever-fading crest of life. With these parting lines we leave past history and C. H. S. behind; and with only a backward glance, travel on down the strange "road of life."

Cridersville, this year, has fourteen graduates--each of which we can be very proud. During the four years of our high school career we have enjoyed every minute and through the guidence of our teachers everyone will be successful as we go through life.

PROPHECY

JULY, 1958

Rosie and I had just boarded the train in Akron (we're at the Pediatric Hospital there, you know. Rosie's superintendent of nurses and I'm at the head of the infantile ward) for Cridersville and gotten all our belongings settled when we noticed a man in a Navy officer's uniform. We sat there admiring, of course, and trying to imagine what he looks like from the front. But you can't tell much from the back of his head, except that he had black hair, so we casually went to the end of the car for a drink. And when we got a better look at the slender Navy Lieutenant, we both gasped Norman Roser! and went to sit with him.

Norman told us that he was on his way home after receiving a card from some member of the Class of '48, which stated that there was to be a picnic in the Cridersville Memorial Park. Rosie and I had received similar cards, also.

We started reminiscing, of course, and laughing about old times and all the fun we had in school. How fortunate we were, but we didn't realize it then.

Finally, after a long while, we began to run out of words. I picked up a Chicago paper and began to glance through it, when my eyes fell on a familiar sight. A picture of Joan Clark on roller skates could most likely be in any paper. She was a professional and had had several offers from Hollywood, but Joan was married (she used her maiden name only for her professional life) and wished to retire soon from her career. She had made her fortune and bought a lovely home in the suburbs of Cridersville, where she could plan her future activities as a social worker.

While reading about Joan, I heard Rosie ask if Don Harshe and Ed Coplin were still buddy-buddies of Norman's. It was no great shock when I heard that Ed was the very prosperous owner of a 300-acre farm. I always knew that would be his life-work. I believe everyone in Cridersville has heard of Harshe's Dairy. Yes, sir, that summer Don spent working at Decker's was certainly well-spent. I'll bet Mr. Decker never dreamed that some day this same lad would own and manage a competitive dairy. But even these two large firms cannot furnish products enough for the metropolis Cridersville has grown into.

Norman also told us that Lloyd Corson was working in the chemical laboratory of the Ford Company at Dearborn, Michigan. He always did seem to grasp Mr. Crites's teachings in chemistry easier than the rest of us. Maybe now he has a chance to put the borax bead test he enjoyed so much to a practical use.

The first thing we did after arriving at Cridersville's huge railroad station was to grab a booth and, after calling our folks, we called Ruth Ritchie's beauty shop--or Ruth's Modern Salon--to see if Ruth couldn't set our hair. She was extremely busy, but said she would handle us personally. When we walked into her shop--and it certainly was modern--we commented on her unusual decorating scheme. Ruth told us Kitty Reilly (or Bailey still sounds more familiar) had been her interior decorator. The whole thing was so original, that she didn't have to continue telling us how successful Kitty had been in decorating the lovely mansions of Cridersville and other large cities.

After Ruth did our hair--and I must say after looking at it w understood how Ruth had built up her business--we had some spar time, so we decided to call on Glennes Sherrick, or that was he maiden name. When we knocked at the door of her sweet littl home, she and her three children answered. After showing u around, we sat on the sun porch sipping cokes, eating cookies and again rehashing old times.

Rosie asked Glennes about Treva Bell and Jean Shealy. She informed us that after a summer of nurse's aid work, Treva marrie "Remember how we used to tease poor Treva when her boy friend would come to see her during noon hour?" asked Rosie. We cer tainly remembered, but it was oh--so long ago. So now Treva i happily married and living in Harrod with her husband and five children (all adorable boys!).

Glennes brought us a letter which she had received from Jean Shealy. She lives on a ranch in Montana with her husband. They raise horses which any person interested in racing has heard of. Yes, they certainly are famous. One of her horses, Winged Won-- der, won the Kentucky Derby two years ago. Maybe you saw Jean's picture in the paper with the winner.

"Well, Glennes, we really must run along. See you tomorrow at the picnic," for she had received a card, too.

The next day dawned beautifully, and we arose with the sun at 11:00 A. M. (Late sunrise!) Mothers are so kind, aren't they? Our basket was all packed by the time we were ready. The picnic was to be at 1, but we wanted to get an early start. It's hard to tell what kind of Sunday traffic you'll run into driving through Cridersville.

But even with our early start, we were met at the park by Mary Spyker and Helen Snider. So they were the ones responsible for all those mysterious pose cards going to fourteen certain people (including themselves, so they'd be sure not to forget)! We had known before that Mary and Helen had gotten employment in the of- fices of the Lima Tank Depot, and when General Motors took the plant over, Helen and Mary had been advanced to the head of the office. Helen was "boss" over general office employment, and Mary was personal secretary to the manager of the plant. Yes, their shorthand came in handy!!

We talked, and as our conversation grew, so did our group grow --until finally the fourteen members of our graduating class were all present with their wives and husbands. And after congratu- lating Helen and Mary for thinking up the idea, we left saying, "See you next year at the picnic of the "Class of '48'."

COME THOU ALMIGHTY KING

Come Thou almighty King
Help us Thy name to sing
Help us to praise
Father, all glorious
O'er all victorious
Come, and reign over us
Ancient of days.

Come Thou incarnate Word
Gird on Thy mighty sword
Our prayer attend
Come and Thy people bless
And give Thy word success
Spirit of holiness
On us descend.

To the great One in Three Eternal praises be
Hence evermore
His sovereign majesty
May we in glory see
And to eternity
Love and adore.
A-men.

NOW THE DAY IS OVER

Now the day is over
Night is drawing nigh
Shadows of the evening
Steal across the sky.

Jesus, give the weary
Calm and sweet repose
With Thy tenderest
blessing
May our eyelids close.

When the morning wakens
Then may I arise
Pure, and fresh, and sinless
In Thy Holy eyes.
A-men.

These eleven pictures present to you the Class of '48 throughout our school years. We hope you have enjoyed looking at them as much as we have as they recalled old memories.

tion, "Have I been successful and have my accomplishments been great?" When speaking of the Freshman, Sophomore and Junior Classes of Cridersville the only answer is a unanimous "yes." They have proved thru' their actions that what they set out to do is always done and that no obstacle is too big for them to overcome.

We can be sure that these students are a real asset to Cridersville High School.

JUNIOR-SENIOR PROM

This year was the first year a prom was ever held at Crider-sville. It was spomsored by the Junior Class for us seniors. It took place at the Lost Creek Country Club. Music was by "The Rhapsodiers" from St. Marys, Ohio. This was the first attempt ever made hear to have a successful prom. It went well and we all enjoyed it. Out side dates were permitted and fun was had by all. We as seniors wish to extend our "thanks" to the Juniors and we hope this is just the first in many proms held here at C. H. S. If each one is as successful as ours we know they will be continued.

Elementary means beginning and to everyone pictured here this means a beginning of a school career. To us who are arriving at the end of our twelve years, this seems a short period of time; but to these little folks the goal seems a great distance away.

Athletics are important becuase physical fitness is the starting point for effective work in any field.

Here at Cridersville the play spirit of youth is encouraged so that the person may grow through individual effort and group co-operation.

Congradulations to the Basketball Team of 47-48 on a successful season and we hope your work will advance in the years ahead.

ACTIVITIES

"MISS JIMMY"

On April 30, 1948, the Senior Class presented "Miss Jimmy,"a three act comedy.

The characters were of typical college students and teachers. Miss Watkins (Rosie Davis) tried to keep peace and order; Professor Frazier (Norman Roser) brings his accent from dear old Oxford to instruct: Louise (Jean Shealy) a moon-struck Sophmore at Brier Mountain College for women only; Florence (Mary Eley) her roommate who was full of haughty but wise remarks; Catherine (Mary Spyker) a junior who wanted a man for the prom; Doris (Kitty Bailey) a freshman who had to do everything; Harriet (Joan Clark) a senior who was high & mighty (she thought). Droopy (Ed Coplin) the handy man who founded a chicken ranch while at Brier Mountain. Then came Jimmy Miller (Don Harshe) a stray state student and then trouble and fun commenced. All because of a dress this happened.

This was directed by Mr. Mahoney, whom the class presented with a present to show their appreciation.

Music was furnished by the Mixed Chorus-with Mrs. Schultz directing, a double quartet consisting of Treva Bell, Kitty Bailey, Angela Owens, Mary Eley, Pat Reilly, Dick Williams, Dale Crawford, and Howard Laruo.

Shirley Roser tap danced to "April Showers."

"THE ACTORS HAVE COME"

The annual junior play was presented October 24, 1947 in the community hall. It was a three act comedy with ten actors and actresses respectively.

Wilfred Ott (Dale Crawford), who always whittled, ran the Ott Home for Tourists in a sleepy country town. That is, he ran it theoretically, for Jossie (Dottie Freymuth), his wife, managed the family. The light of both their lives was nineteen-year-old Connie (Susie Wolfe). But she had been having queer ideas lately. She lost interest in everything common, even Basset (Bill Wheeler), her best friend. She would rather dream over a copy of Shakespeare than be out with her friend Minnie (Huldah Shaw). This was the state of affairs when, to the Ott Tourist Home, came Mr. & Mrs. Gordon Garrick (Rose Koch & Ginny Lowry) and their troupe. One of the troupe was George Smith (Dick Williams) a handsome fellow who Connie soon found she had lots in common with. When Adoree Arlaine (Carolyn Miller), the clever one of the company, quit Garrick in a huff, Connie got her chance. She won a permanent place in the Opera House. In the meantime one question led to another and as a result, Shanley (Jr. Stevens), found his son who was going under the false name of George Smith; persuaded him to return to California and work for him.

As things usually get straightened out, so did this matter; George and Connie were married, the Otts went along to California so Wilfred could become a professional whittler, and the Garrick' were forgotten. This ended the play with everyone happy with the things life had offered them.

"DUST OF THE EARTH"

This is a dramatic play about Nell(Maryellen Bowsher) who lived the life of a servant with her domineering aunt (Nancy Winget) and uncle(Jack Davis.) Her trials and tribulations with her jealous cousin,Elizabeth(Joan Reicholderfer) and her more friendly cousin, Elizabeth's brother(Carl Hall) made it an amusing as well as a heart warming story.

The town gossip Arabella(Doris Davidson) also lended a note to make you chuckle.

Nell's very few friends included John Ryder(Dale Satterfield) whom she later fell in love with and was proposed by;- Wandering Tom(Dick Williams) an old man that lost his memory, but later regains it and discloses himself as Nell's father as well as the wealthy owner of the Naples. Her last friend was Old Mose(Howard LaRue) an old Darkie who stayed with Wandering Tom to care for him.

At the end Nell regains her rightful station in life and all old grudges are for given.

The jealous Elizabeth turns for the better and announces her engagement to Rev. Dr. Templeton(Melvin Shider) leaving everyone in a joyful and happy mood when the curtain finally goes down.
